STAINLESS MANUFACTURING

We have decades of experience working with stainless steel. From the first cut to the final assembly, our knowledge and expertise provides you with the necessary assurance that your project is done correctly to your specifications. Furthermore, since we only work with Stainless Steel, there is no concern of iron contamination during the fabrication process.

DESIGN / BUILD

Our company is a true design-build firm. We work under a single contract with your company providing you with all of the services required establishing a unified flow of work from concept to project completion. This single source integrated team model results in superb collaboration, higher quality, better delivery times, and cost savings.

PROTOTYPING

Through a collaborative design effort, we can work with you to provide a solution to your specific problem. Our engineering team utilizes a variety of design software including Dassault Systems Solid Works, Auto Desk AutoCad, Auto Desk Inventor, Auto Desk Mechanical Desktop, Solid Edge, Solid works Simulation, as well as 3DVia Composer for technical product documentation.

Many fabrication companies are primarily interested in large production runs. At Global International, we embrace the low volume or “one-off” manufacturing. We are able to assist in all levels of design and fabrication depending upon your specific needs.
